There is certainly one thing Casky can boast of, and that is her religious advantages; with a church situated only a few rods distant on either side, where the gospel may be heard twice a month, withigunday Schools and prayer meetings, is certainly a blessing which but tew places of this size receive. And our Sunday School deserves more than a passing notice, with Mr. Winaton Henry as Superintendent. It has been conducted with enviable success through winter and summer for 4 years, and upon its list now may be seen twice as many names as it held two years as as many names as it held two years and H. -When hogs have the run of a field, it is rarely the case that they will get so feverish as to be foundered all over, but they will often get quite stiff. The corn should be mixed with bran or oats, and only half of the bulk of the food should be of the corn or earbonneeous sort. Such fevered pork is not the thing to eat. When hogs are fed all the corn meal they will cat, one-third of it is wasted. -

N. Y. Observer. -Fritters: To be palatable and digestible should be made and cooked very quickly. The lard in which they are boiled should be hot; the proper heat is indicated by a blue smoke arising from the surface. Batter for fritters is best made up several hours before using, and is made by beating six eggs, tenspoonful of salt, one and a half plats of flour and one pint of milk together. Drop in hot land. Serve with maple syrup. - Good Cheer.

-Do not allow the calves to run down in flesh for want of good feed now. They will require as much or more feed to carry them through the winter, if allowed to become poor before winter sets in, and will be in much poorer shape to grow next sum much poorer shape to grow next summer. Good strong growth from birth to a rather early maturity is the most profitable, especially where meat is desired. Cramming or extra high
